

Original: <http://www.familysecuritymatters.org/index.php?id=1208571> 2007-08-03

From: <http://64.233.167.104/search?q=cache:cnnnSRimWmcJ:www.familysecuritymatters.org/index.php%3Fid%3D1208571%20%22president%20for%20life%20bush%22%20site:familysecuritymatters.org> 2007-08-19

Link here: http://blog.lege.net/content/FSM__Conquering_the_Drawbacks_of_Democracy.html

PDF "printout": http://blog.lege.net/content/FSM__Conquering_the_Drawbacks_of_Democracy.pdf

"It turns out that "Family Security Matters (FSM) is a front group for the Center for Security Policy (CSP), a conservative Washington think tank committed to the time-tested philosophy of promoting international peace through American strength." (The phone number listed on the FSM website is answered by the CSP.) So now we are led to the Center for Security Policy, and who's connected to that group? Dick Cheney, Vice President of the U.S. under George W. Bush, was an early member of Center's Board of Advisors (which is now called the National Security Advisory Council). Twenty-two CSP advisers -- including additional Reagan-era remnants like Elliott Abrams, Ken deGraffenreid, Paula Dobriansky, Sven Kraemer, Robert Joseph, Robert Andrews and J.D. Crouch -- have reoccupied key positions in the national security establishment, as have other true believers of more recent vintage."

This is Google's cache of <http://www.familysecuritymatters.org/index.php?id=1208571> as retrieved on Aug 3, 2007 01:41:56 GMT.

Google's cache is the snapshot that we took of the page as we crawled the web.

The page may have changed since that time. Click here for the current page without highlighting.

This cached page may reference images which are no longer available. Click here for the cached text only.

To link to or bookmark this page, use the following url:

<http://www.google.com/search?q=cache:cnnnSRimWmcJ:www.familysecuritymatters.org/index.php%3Fid%3D1208571%20%22president%20for%20life%20bush%22%20site:familysecuritymatters.org>

Google is neither affiliated with the authors of this page nor responsible for its content.

These search terms have been highlighted: president for life bush

FAMILY SECURITY MATTERS

The National Security Resource for American Families

JOIN US!

Sign up for FSM's Security Updates!

click here

★ TERRORISM
★ CHALLENGES
★ HOMELAND
★ GLOBAL

Site
Articles
News
Advanced

★ FSM PRESIDENTIAL WATCH

- HOME
- ABOUT FSM
- ENFACTLOPEDIA
- MUST READS
- PRODUCTS
- RESOURCES
- MULTIMEDIA
- FAQ
- CONTACT US
- HELP
- PRESS COVERAGE
- DONATE!

★ FSM GEAR

Print
 Send to Friends
Quick Links

FSM's Must Reads

Exclusive: Conquering the Drawbacks of Democracy
Philip Atkinson

Author: Philip Atkinson
Source: The Family Security Foundation, Inc.
Date: August 3, 2007

While democratic government is better than dictatorships and theocracies, it has its pitfalls. FSM Contributing Editor Philip Atkinson describes some of the difficulties facing President Bush today.

★ Victims of Illegal Alien Crime

VOLAC

★ TODAY'S HOT TOPICS

- August 2nd
Views and News
Click Here
- August 1st
Views and News
Click Here
- Where the Left Is Moving Right

Conquering the Drawbacks of Democracy

★ TOP ASKED QUESTIONS

NEED HELP?
TOP 5 QUESTIONS

I don't live in a major urban area. How could a terrorist attack possibly affect my family?

How can I help motivate my friends and community to become more aware of current affairs and more involved in homeland security and the war on terror?

What can I do to help protect my family and community?

What is the Patriot Act and does it threaten my civil liberties?

What is the United Nations doing to combat terrorism?

★ FSMU

★ ESPECIALLY FOR KIDS

★ FSM READER MAIL

What our Readers are Saying!

★ FSM Advertisers Support Them

By Philip Atkinson

President George W. Bush is the 43rd President of the United States. He was sworn in for a second term on January 20, 2005 after being chosen by the majority of citizens in America to be president.

Yet in 2007 he is generally despised, with many citizens of Western civilization expressing contempt for his person and his policies, sentiments which now abound on the Internet. This rage at President Bush is an inevitable result of the system of government demanded by the people, which is Democracy.

The inadequacy of Democracy, rule by the majority, is undeniable – for it demands adopting ideas because they are popular, rather than because they are wise. This means that any man chosen to act as an agent of the people is placed in an invidious position: if he commits folly because it is popular, then he will be held responsible for the inevitable result. If he refuses to commit folly, then he will be detested by most citizens because he is frustrating their demands.

When faced with the possible threat that the Iraqis might be amassing terrible weapons that could be used to slay millions of citizens of Western Civilization, President Bush took the only action prudence demanded and the electorate allowed: he conquered Iraq with an army.

This dangerous and expensive act did destroy the Iraqi regime, but left an American army without any clear purpose in a hostile country and subject to attack. If the Army merely returns to its home, then the threat it ended would simply return.

The wisest course would have been for President Bush to use his nuclear weapons to slaughter Iraqis until they complied with his demands, or until they were all dead. Then there would be little risk or expense and no American army would be left exposed. But if he did this, his cowardly electorate would have instantly ended his term of office, if not his freedom or his life.

The simple truth that modern weapons now mean a nation must practice genocide or commit suicide. Israel provides the perfect example. If the Israelis do not raze Iran, the Iranians will fulfill their boast and wipe Israel off the face of the earth. Yet Israel is not popular, and so is denied permission to defend itself. In the same vein, President Bush cannot do what is necessary for the survival of Americans. He cannot use the nation's powerful weapons. All he can do is try and discover a result that will be popular with Americans.

As there appears to be no sensible result of the invasion of Iraq that will be popular with his countrymen other than retreat, President Bush is reviled; he has become another victim of Democracy.

By elevating popular fancy over truth, Democracy is clearly an enemy of not just truth, but duty and justice, which makes it the worst form of government. President Bush must overcome not just the situation in Iraq, but democratic government.

However, President Bush has a valuable historical example that he could choose to follow.

When the ancient Roman general Julius Caesar was struggling to conquer ancient Gaul, he not only had to defeat the Gauls, but he also had to defeat his political enemies in Rome who would destroy him the moment his tenure as consul (president) ended.

Caesar pacified Gaul by mass slaughter; he then used his successful army to crush all political opposition at home and establish himself as permanent ruler of ancient Rome. This brilliant action not only ended the personal threat to Caesar, but ended the civil chaos that was threatening anarchy in ancient Rome – thus marking the start of the ancient Roman Empire that gave peace and prosperity to the known world.

If President Bush copied Julius Caesar by ordering his army to empty Iraq of Arabs and repopulate the country with Americans, he would achieve immediate results: popularity with his military; enrichment of America by converting an Arabian Iraq into an American Iraq (therefore turning it from a liability to an asset); and boost American prestige while terrifying American enemies.

He could then follow Caesar's example and use his newfound popularity with the military to wield military power to become the first permanent president of America, and end the civil chaos caused by the continually squabbling Congress and the out-of-control Supreme Court.

President Bush can fail in his duty to himself, his country, and his God, by becoming "ex-president" Bush or he can become "President-for-Life" Bush: the conqueror of Iraq, who brings sense to the Congress and sanity to the Supreme Court. Then who would be able to stop Bush from emulating Augustus Caesar and becoming ruler of the world? For only an America united under one ruler has the power to save humanity from the threat of a new Dark Age wrought by terrorists armed with nuclear weapons.

##

FamilySecurityMatters.org Contributing Editor Philip Atkinson is the British born founder of ourcivilisation.com and author of A Study of Our Decline. He is a philosopher specializing in issues concerning the preservation of Western civilization. Mr. Atkinson receives mail at rpa@ourcivilisation.com.

read full author bio here

© 2003-2007 FamilySecurityMatters.org All Rights Reserved

If you are a reporter or producer who is interested in receiving more information about this writer or this article, please email your request to pr@familysecuritymatters.org.

Note -- The opinions expressed in this column are those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the opinions, views, and/or philosophy of The Family Security Foundation, Inc.

Other Articles by Philip Atkinson...

- Conquering the Drawbacks of Democracy
- Muslims in Australia
- The Insanity Test by Phillip Atkinson
- America's Choice
- Heresy Prosecutions Signal Re-appearance of Inquisition in 21st Century
- The Tyranny of Political Correctness

➤ Campus Movement
Toward terror-free university investment.

➤ July 31st
Views and News
Click Here

➤ Bad Company
Before the U.S. makes a nuclear deal with India, it should insist on an end to ties with Iran.

How Our Decaying Civilization Will End, Too Enfeebled to Resist Invasion

Click here to support Family Security Matters

The banners are as follows:

- FSM BLOGROLL: A blue banner with a yellow star and the text "FSM BLOGROLL".
- FSM BLOG @ Townhall.com: A banner with "FSM BLOG" in large orange letters and "@ Townhall.com" below it.
- FSM's C.R.C.: A banner with a yellow star, "12:00:00 HRS" in orange, and "FSM's Counterterrorism Research Center" in white on a dark background.
- LISTEN AND SPEAK OUT: A blue banner with a yellow star and the text "LISTEN AND SPEAK OUT". Below it is a photo of a man with a megaphone and the text "Get the facts and make your voice heard." with a "CLICK HERE" button.
- OUR NATION'S DEFENDERS: A blue banner with a yellow star and the text "OUR NATION'S DEFENDERS". Below it is a photo of a woman and the text "Meet the Americans who keep us safe." with a "CLICK HERE" button.

HOME | CONTACT US | DONATE | FAQ | HELP | PRESS | PRIVACY POLICY / TERMS OF USE
Make FSM your Homepage

(In accordance with Title 17 U.S.C. Section 107, this material is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving the included information for research and educational purposes.)