Had to be broken

It's all those people "only doing what's expected of them" who in the aggregate create tyranny. It had to be broken.

American politics would have marched on at a status quo indefinitely until the sovereignty of the nation was surrendered slowly, but surely, to the global agenda.

What you are observing now is the backlash to the Presidency of the one who slipped through cracks.

I'm tired of people playing in black and white, trying to call balls and strikes on a conservative/liberal agenda scale, when in reality, Trump is the only man who could have accelerated the enemy to the point of fracture.

Napoleon said "never interrupt your enemy when he is making a mistake."

Trump deserves the gratitude of all Americans for stepping up into this place in history.

No what he did was bring us together, stand up for us and give us a voice again. He is us, we are him. TCSWC cause, they think it's just 45 they have no fuckin clue the beast that stalks them.

"Covid was only the revealing event, like the litmus in an acid test."

Excerpt in 2x1 landscape PDF form from Irène Lhoste, The European Union Technocracy, Bureaucrats and the Theft of Democracy—an EU civil servant's account, Monday, 3rd July 2023, 2023-07-03T16:17:11+01:00, <https://www.ukcolumn.org/article/the-european-union-technocracy-bureaucrats-and-the-theft-of-democracy-an-eu-civil-servants> , <https://t.me/realLegeNet/50632> .

The above excerpt inline:

"Covid was only the revealing event, like the litmus in an acid test."

"What happens 'in a crisis' instead

Admittedly, the 'normal' decision-making procedure has its limits and caveats. Its official appellation ("Ordinary Legislative Procedure"), however, is not to say that it is what happens by default.

Normal only applies in normal times—and times are rarely normal. Crises, on the other hand, benefit from very different rules. Take the Covid 'crisis'. None of the laws and rules adopted during this period, whether at national or EU level, followed the formalities explained above. In the name of 'efficiency', 'urgency', 'cutting red tape', 'saving lives', 'acting decisively', etc., all sorts of corners were cut—mostly the good ones, the ones that are supposed to ensure transparency and accountability and keep alight the feeble flame of democracy.

No impact assessment was carried out; no open call for tender was held when contracting the pandemic 'counter-measures', including the vaccines. Everything was suddenly exclusively top-down, and the EU public administration—like any other national administration in Europe, the UK, US, and everywhere else—just followed religiously the instructions received from the political level.

To the outside observer for whom things are clear and whose mind is made up that this was a hoax pandemic, it may seem inconceivable that so many people—the EU administration being calculated at around 32,000 people, including those from the executive agencies (i.e., not including entities such as the EMA, Frontex or Europol)—could blindly follow orders that today, at the remove of just a couple of years, seem so unequivocally absurd, deceitful and harmful towards people.

Part of the explanation for this evident failure lies in the fact that in reality, out of this huge administration, only a handful of people deal with any given subject. Not even the Commission's entire Directorate-General for Health (DG SANTE)—which is based far away from Brussels in County Meath—was involved in this; only a task force under one of the units of one of the Directorates worked directly on the job.

Moreover, as is often the way in sensitive situations, the Commission does not employ its own experienced civil servants with deep expertise in the matter, but ad-hoc contractual agents, drafted in to a grade outranking the civil servants, to carry out the task in hand. These are people hired on a short-term contract and not with the best salary. They would carry out any task without asking any question or putting two and two together, just to please their boss, to make sure the contract gets extended so that they can continue to have a job. Among the managerial class, it is a foregone conclusion that the individuals who achieve senior positions will be careerists who long since decided to sacrifice any moral backbone for the benefit of a promotion. So nobody will speak and everyone will avert their gaze rather than jeopardise their yearning to climb the greasy pole.

The creeping corruption in the system

Having inhabited the system for a while, I have formed my own theory about how such a gargantuan failure was possible. The culprit is half human corruption, half incompetence. This modus operandi did not wait for a massive blow like the Covid pandemic to strike in order to take shape inside the EU bureaucracy. Covid was only the revealing event, like the litmus in an acid test." (Irène Lhoste, The European Union Technocracy, Bureaucrats and the Theft of Democracy—an EU civil servant's account, Monday, 3rd July 2023, 2023-07-03T16:17:11+01:00, <https://www.ukcolumn.org/article/the-european-union-technocracy-bureaucrats-and-the-theft-of-democracy-an-eu-civil-servants>, <https://t.me/realLegeNet/50632>.)

Those focused on positioning themselves in their pecking order of course see the demanding of responsibility based on information that they have never considered as attacks. Hence security services drawing up lists of dissidents, etc.. Thereby exposing the inherent tyranny they support even more.

Irène Lhoste have very good information in her article on the EU but she does err in concluding that the bureaucrats are not the problem, even if she is correct that the instructions they are under is. She is partly wrong due to that no-one are guilt free who obey orders. Order following is inherently evil as all are responsible for their actions and them who follow orders have not taken sovereign responsibility.

Quoting... "As for the legal departments at the EU, the request for input comes with the instruction to establish that our decisions respect EU and international law; not that they should analyse whether or not it does so. The outcome of any analysis is dictated. I recall a Director who always used to say, "A good lawyer does not tell his superior whether it is legal or not. A good lawyer makes it legal." I was vividly reminded of that expression recently when our President mentioned in a press statement that "our lawyers are looking into ways legally to seize Russian assets". The balance of moral righteousness when the EU assesses its actions is predetermined and always biased towards the plus.

If the bureaucrats are not the problem, then who is?

Evil has nothing of the glory and romance that many conspiracy theories tend to apportion to it. It is often the offspring of the banal, and mostly coexists peacefully with banality. Evil is not the exclusive appanage of a given category of people; it is born when the joints between the three bodies of society—political élites, bureaucracy and general public—crumble and when the mechanisms developed over centuries and meant to allow the estates to keep each other in check are hit by a wrecking ball. Democracy is achieved when there is a fine balance between the need to keep the large masses under control, so as not to cannibalise each other for control of resources, and the need for the masses as a whole to control those in power, to make sure that it does not get misused or abused.

The public gradually lost interest in political life decades ago in the West, thinking that things were bound to move forward anyway and that they were always going to be taken care of by the politicians—even when they saw malfeasance arising. The common phrase one hears these days is, "They wouldn't bump us all off, would they? Who would work for them then?" I'm afraid people

I feel sorry for all the sad, pathetic people who have been psychologically terrorized into believing the climate change cult narrative. It's actually a mental illness, and its symptoms are incessant fear stemming from every weather variation, combined with a strong desire to control others and cripple human activity in order to "save the planet" FROM humanity. The #climate #hoax narrative is just as stupid and yet just as dangerous as the #COVID panic narrative which destroyed economies and countless lives in the name of "compliance" with ill-fated government authority. REJECT the climate cultists if you really want to save human civilization.

I posted it here, <http://blog.lege.net/?/457-Trump-bankrupting-the-US-Corporation.html>, even though my web server bandwidth doesn't really work for others, but it works for me and it's a reminder for me. I also sent this blog as an e-mail and added this:

"Note: When you dissolve the corporation, you dissolve it's internal laws and go back to the law of the land, common law, etc.."

The foundation of law is so far outside the paradigm for most that there is nothing else to do than to keep rubbing it in. They, most, simply don't get where "law" comes from.

How do we get compensated for the harm done against our unalienable rights referencing the corporate modern letters of Marque? Are they aware of their liabilities in their Conspiracy against rights and that they can also be accessories after the fact when administering the spoils from an initial act of "inland piracy"?

Yes I listened to it 3 times and will do again with headphones. The woman is amazing. Assuming "America" as the territory as a whole, with law of the land, without a central bank (central bank -communism) but with a state Bank e.g. America Bank. To get that, they need to do the opposite of what was done to Germany, more precise German Empire. (German empire was not crowned by the Vatican, the emperor crowned himself).

United States of America must:

Declare bankruptcy

Declare the offices of the federal organs impotent and not functioning

Declare all law of the sea null and void

Declare all states sovereign and the federal states including contracts dissolved.

Declaration of "America" with all sovereign organs alive and able to act. Declaration of the law of the land fully functioning, able to act.

Declare a new insurance off money structure.

All legal Americans need to vote as a human, with signature and date and location.

No longer can "ius Soli" be applied, but only "ius sanguinis".

Every American needs to prove his family tree, going back to 1776 or at least 1870.

... And on and on.

But if you resurrect the law of the land, you need these... At least.

The rest can be taken care of...

liability...

The pirates need to go to a gulag, and through very hard manual labor, pay off the damages caused. They will lose all property, all rights to property and have no rights whatsoever anymore...
Possible under law of the land...

Notes:

'ius soli' — The principle that the nationality of a person is determined on the basis of their country of birth

'ius sanguinis' is Latin for 'the law of the blood' ('ius'—'law'; 'sanguis'—'blood'). The notion of 'ius sanguinis' generally conveys a legal principle whereby descent is the main element based on which a certain legal status is attributed to a person.

Precis som Jan Halper-Hayes säger så kunde inte den verkliga situationen avslöjas för den stora massan för tidigt då det skulle resulterat i inbördeskrig, hon säger inte varför men det är p.g.a. människorna då inte alla skulle kunna ta till sig att det är rätt och riktigt det som skett och sker, det som nu håller på att synliggöras även för "normisarna".

Detta har bäring på vårt eget land och systemtjänarna. När de på riktigt inser att de faktiskt kan komma att behöva stå enskilt ersättningsskyldiga för de skador de åsamkat i tron att de aldrig skulle behöva ta eget ansvar för det då uppfattar de nog detta som en sorts krigsförklaring.

Tanken togs upp och deklarerades för 6 år sedan att det måste tas hänsyn till att de själva stått under mind control men att de från den deklarationen därefter inte längre var utan ansvar. Det är tidigare postat här ovan, klipper nedan från sådan tidigare post högre upp. Hur skapar vi framöver en rimlig övergång? Hur skapar vi förståelse? Kan det vara så att det i dag går att få förståelse för det som inte gick för 6 år sedan eller har de satt klackarna så i marken att de omöjligt kan tänka om? Det är ju det att när de väl erkänner något eget ansvar "går proppen ur", så de ser väl inget sätt, antar jag. Därav orubblighetsprincipen.

Nämnda tidigare post högre upp:

I MSS grundande, tillagd understrykning: "Den demokratiska krigarklassen" eller "de demokratiska terroristerna" som tror att de administrerat en demokrati är vilseledda, och är såväl som den västerländska eliten själva brottsoffer för det akademiska bedrägeri som terroriserat och bedrivit krig mot enskilda och urfolk i tusentals år, varför de av detta krigssystem tvångsvärvade medborgarsoldaterna i den mån dessa ej tillåter att riktig rättsskipning skapas med rätta kan kallas "den demokratiska krigarklassen" eller "de demokratiska terroristerna". Sådan krigsföring och/eller terror är härmed förbjuden. Grundläggande rättsprinciper säger att finns ingen rättvisa får man lov att skapa den. Vad tvångsvärvade brottsoffer för ett flertusenårigt bedrägeri tidigare har beslutat t.ex. om att domstol inte får inrättas efter handlingen äger ej giltighet. Men Vi är nåderika och Vi tar hänsyn till att de som begått brott själva är brottsoffer. Att eliten såväl som alla andra av nämnda krigssystem tvångsvärvade medborgarsoldater är brottsoffer MILDRA givetvis ansvar, men det tar ej bort det efter denna Proklamation som härmed Delger Nationen Sverige om bedrägeriet." Fundera på en annan sak: Det talas ofta om "systemhotande". Ett upplösande av det nuvarande piratbaserade systemet (moderna kaparbrev i form av det som i detta system kallas "lagen") är förstås "systemhotande" för denna korporativa struktur. Att som Donald John Trump deklarerar och systematiskt legalisera att upplösa avtalet mellan Förenta Staterna, Vatikanen och Brittiska Kronan från år 1871 är givetvis "systemhotande" för det system som utifrån detta avtal (treaty) har skapats. Men denna form av "systemhotande" innebär inte ett hot för folket om vi bara förstår de nya möjligheterna det skapar. De som talar om "systemhotande", har de någonsin ens tänkt i dessa banor, eller är de så fastlåsta i förprogrammeringen som pågått åtminstone sedan år 1871 att de inte ens kan se möjligheterna eller de nya utmaningarna?

Hur påverkar upplösandet av världsavtalet mellan Förenta Staterna, Vatikanen och Brittiska Kronan Sveriges avtalsmässiga situation? Påven var på statsbesök för några år sedan, var det för att förbereda Sverige på förändringen? Är Sverige nu utanför avtal? Är Sverige nu ett rent brottsyndikat, anslutet till EU dito?

A man who have thought deeply about law is Stefan Ratzeburg. His words is a matter of consequence. "The word of the Master opens and closes, and his word is The Law", as the Woman wearing the Falcon Dress wrote in March 2021 in The Return of the Old Gods, for the children.

Here Stefan Ratzeburg, today:

"As long as every human being is such a spiritual being with his/her own sense of inner balance, he and she is bound to the highest law, the highest sphere of law: the eternally valid cosmic laws. That is where we want to go again. For the sovereign, individual, creative human being is only subject to the universally valid cosmic laws. The rest he/she regulates as a free being in an intelligent way that secures this freedom of the individual.

Our legal history begins in a state where people still had a memory of their individuality and their balance with cosmic laws. These cosmic laws do not apply from a certain day, but always and even where no one is looking." (Stefan Ratzeburg, THE ESSENCE Part3, on Telegram 8/6/23 12:13 PM UTC.)

Again the Woman wearing the Falcon Dress, March 2021 in The Return of the Old Gods, for the children:

"The Old Gods return and The Law will be Standard. Before The Law only Masters of Self can stand, and only those on the path to gain Self Mastery are allowed to walk. Those who Control others, and those who are Controlled by others, are not Masters of Self. They are two sides of the same Coin. This Coin was forged by Fear by the Controllers and the Controlled at the same time. The Old Gods have come to return this Coin, and everybody holding on to it, to the Flames that forged it."

+ "The path to Self Mastery begins with the resurrection after the fall. By practicing The Law, he comes to know it, and by his surrender, he becomes it. He is protected by The Law, and his fall is the resurrection."

That resurrection after the fall is the awakening, the great awakening. The awakening to the law of the living, leaving the law of the dead to the dead. As Stefan Ratzeburg writes in his text today, The King's Point shines bright and pure again. The living Earth can now flourish.

OCR of the English translation that is at the end of the voice message at Stefan Ratzeburg (offiziell), 9/11/23 8:01 PM UTC:

Dear people

In the course of history, no matter in which families and houses, construction took place over several generations. Other generations took care of the preservation of what had been built up, and then there was always another generation that destroyed everything.

In my case, within my family/lineage, I was and am aware of the responsibility of what actions I must and had to take in order to liberate all noble ancestors in spirit and soul through the ADDITION to the House Laws of the Hohenzollern, etc., so that they may find peace of mind and to restore their own free will to the present prisoners and slaves of their oath, those now living from the noble families, to free them from the code to which they are now no longer bound. This also included setting straight what had been ruined for the entire nobility by the one who made these house laws binding on all in 1924, etc. For many noble houses had to abide by a code, whether they wanted to or not. Otherwise, they too were only considered collateral damage. According to the motto : Eat or die. (Licence to kill)

As the patron of all, I can reassure all people, since I have already completed my task of freeing the people: they are now free from civil death, and now possess — through the NEW AUREA

BULLA OF RELEASE - as living ensouled people again the land and soil rights, i.e. the collateral.

It has thus also been given back to them by me the international Law.

The corruption is being uncovered and subsequently eliminated.

Furthermore, as patron, I have the task of being equally responsible for the equal rights of all people, so also for those who have played on the dark side.

This is first about dialogue. Justice will follow. Proper justice is now provided. There is no place for revenge.

The people who now learn the truth and may thereby fall into the bottomless abyss will be lovingly caught.

Through my status as r e x : m a x i m u s I have the possibility to liberate and unify all faiths. In the future humanity will consist of sovereign individuals who all have their own "wire" to the highest, the source, for the good, in the good, to achieve the best. What religious communities they may join in this is up to them.

These points are also set.

Healing by all peoples can only happen with the right consciousness in self-responsibility. With this, the peoples will heal and change themselves and thus also the status quo. This new behaviour of self-healing will lead them into the good, self-creat, new future.

We are all the generation that has the task,
to put everything back in order,
straighten it out,
to bring the truth to light,
instead of taking to give,
to let go,
to preserve and protect our roots,

Working hard to put down that 1776 individual sovereignty insurgency that the collectivists and authoritarians have sought to put down since.

To the collectivists and authoritarians 1776 was of course a criminal revolt. Their world wide oppression was and is threatened by the hope and freedom strivings that The American Project spawned world wide, why it from the collectivists and authoritarians perspective was an insurgency. Who are the insurgents is a matter of perspective. It depends on if you support oppression or if you support individual sovereignty. The two are incompatible. While sovereignty can accept that people choose to live under tyranny if that is their free will choice, only as long as they do not infringe on the sovereignty of those not so choosing, tyranny cannot accept that anyone anywhere is free as that will always be an inspiration for people to leave tyranny and tyranny is simply not attractive enough to retain it's hold when there is a viable alternative.

NEW ARTICLE: FENBENDAZOLE and CANCER - at least 12 Anti-Cancer mechanisms of action. Not approved by FDA. Cheap. Safe. Kills aggressive cancers. Why no Clinical Trials?

I review 9 research papers proving anti-cancer effects of Fenbendazole.

Benzimidazole drugs (including Fenbendazole) have widely been used as anti-helminth agents in both human and/or livestock since the 1960s

Due to their low cost and high efficacy, benzimidazole anthelmintics have been used throughout the world

Ivermectin is FDA approved.

Fenbendazole is NOT approved for human use by Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and European Medicines Agency (EMA).

A close relative of Fenbendazole called Mebendazole is approved by FDA and has several Clinical Trials for Cancer Treatments in Brain cancer and Colon cancer. It's way more expensive!

Why no Clinical Trials currently for Fenbendazole? It's cheap! No one will get rich off Fenbendazole.

Fenbendazole has at least 12 proven anti-cancer mechanisms in vitro and in vivo:

disrupts microtubule polymerization (major mechanism) blocks glucose transport and impairs glucose utilization by cancer cells (major) increases p53 tumor suppressor levels! (major) inhibits cancer cell viability, migration, invasion

What about COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Induced Turbo Cancers?

Fenbendazole shows in vitro and/or in vivo activity against these cancers:

breast cancer (including triple negative breast cancer - which is seen in COVID-19 mRNA Vaccinated individuals with Turbo Cancer) lymphomas (these are the most common COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancers and there is more evidence for Fenbendazole treating Lymphomas than with Ivermectin) leukemias (most aggressive COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancers - patients have no good treatment options)

glioblastomas and gliomas (extremely aggressive COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancers with poor prognosis - patients have no good treatment options)

lung cancer (NSCLC) (strong signal for COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancers)

hepatocellular carcinoma (signal for COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancers and all hepatobiliary cancers including Gallbladder and pancreas) rhabdomyosarcomas (possible signal for COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancers, sarcomas in general are on the rise after mRNA vaccination and they are extremely aggressive)

ovarian cancers

Although the anti-parasitic Fenbendazole is not FDA approved for human use, there is extensive evidence of anti-cancer effects in the published literature, both in vitro and in vivo

This is NOT a controversial medication, as it has been made out to be! Don't let the smears mislead you.

This is a serious anti-cancer agent!

Fenbendazole has an excellent safety profile and its close relative, Mebendazole is FDA approved, and it's undergoing several Clinical Trials for Cancer Treatments in the US right now, including colon cancers and brain cancers.

I believe that it is a reasonable hypothesis that COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine Turbo Cancer patients could benefit significantly from either Mebendazole or Fenbendazole and I would love to see urgent clinical trials with both.

Fenbendazole had Clinical Trials in the past - again, not a controversial medication.

More in the article (including Joe Tippens Cancer Protocol that he used for terminal Small Cell Lung Cancer, other Cancer protocols using Fenbendazole 444mg, etc):

The 'seer' will be listened to again.

Ur text Att. GD Transportstyrelsen Jonas Bjelfvenstam. 25 maj 2023. (Ändå "svarade" sedan grindvakt.)

"En mycket viktig princip som återfinns i Olaus Petris domarregler, vilka regler t.ex. refererats av dåvarande presidenten i Svea Hovrätt i tidskriften domkretsen nr 1 2006, så att de är viktiga har relativt nyligen erkänts, är att lagen ska vara för det menigas bästa. I punkt 7 av Olaus Petris domarregler framgår att lagen ska vara för det menigas bästa. Kan ett domarbeslut ej visas vara för det menigas bästa, så är det beslutet ej i harmoni med lagens anda. Av punkt 19 framgår att det är lag som överhet OCH mening man SAMTYCKER till. Men allmänhetens samtycke är ej tillräckligt. Punkt 42 lär att ingen kan ge bort större rätt än den själv har. Då jag inte själv har rätt att avkräva tull, bot, saköre e.d. av den som ingen skada gjort mot mig oavsett denne inte bryr sig om att följa någon lekregel någon eller några andra tycker den ska lyda, så kan jag givetvis inte heller delegera någon sådan fullmakt till någon annan. Lagen är till för att skydda menigheten, inte minst från godtycke från fogdar och myndighetspersoner. För att jag eller någon annan i allmänheten ska kunna kräva rätt mot någon annan, så måste jag eller den visa att jag eller den skadats av denne annan. Finns ingen skada så finns inget att kräva rätt för. Och därför ej heller något som rättfärdigt kan delegeras av mening man till någon fogde eller myndighet att utkräva bot för. Utkrävs ändå sådan bot så är detta en skada för mening man som denne har all rätt att kräva reparationer för av från de som utkrävt "bot" ur sådan felaktig "lag". Om en regel skadar, då innebär detta gränslöst enskilt ansvar för sådan skada om sådan regel upprätthålls. Om den så står i Författningssamling (SFS). Det är ju fråga om avsiktlig landsförstörelse/-förräderi genom "lagstiftning". Det är domarna och poliserna som upprätthåller de skadliga "lagarna" (fnuttat, för det skadliga kan aldrig på riktigt vara lag, om så miljoners miljoner är hjärntvättade till något annat) som är enskilt personligt gränslöst ansvariga för skadan. Det är inte lag eller vunnit laga kraft om det inte utgår från hjärtat. Lag utgår från hjärtat. Utan respekt för högre värden existerar ingen rätt, ingen lag, utan det är då fråga om ren regelfetischism, §§ diktatur. Detta förstör alla värden och i slutändan allt ni själva sätter värde på, inklusive era egna materiella tillgångar. (Den socialdemokratiska idén att lagen ska vara utan värde, värdelös, och ej skydda mot överhetens förtryck eftersom de själva vill vara överheten, utan varje ansvar.) Det har i generationer pågått indoktrinering som framtagit därför fnuttade "jurister" den kompetens som skulle ha gjort dem till jurister på riktigt. När dessa fnuttade "jurister" i dag skriver att en dom "vunnit laga kraft" då är detta felaktigt eftersom de inte sysslar med lag utan med regelfetischism, §§ diktatur. Vid ett paradigmskifte som vi nu befinner oss i behöver man RÄTTA lagen (det man kallar lag har upptäckts vara fel) liksom vi ser genom Kungl. Maj:ts och Rikens Cancellie Collegii Företal till Lagen att man i forna tider behövde vid ett tidigare paradigmskifte: "Emellertid följde och rättade man sig i de övriga Svea och Göta landsändar efter deras enskilda och uti äldsta hedna tider yrkade lagar, sedan de, vid den kristna lärans allmänna antagande här i riket av då varande konungar och lagmän blivit rättade och de där uti befintliga fördömliga vidskepelser och avguda offersätt utmönstrade." Dvs vidskeppelse, såsom i dag vidskeppelsen att man måste ha körkort, kunde utmönstras när man vann ny insikt."

När somliga säger om rådande lagtekniskt läge att "nu är det så det är", då är det viktigt att förstå att rådande läge är att brott begås mot befolkningen med "lag" som ursäkt. Det kan dock ej vara lag när det används för att begå brott.

LegeNet, 11/21/23 3:13 PM UTC

Men det är en Civil Religion som medelst mobbing / indoktrinering vill tvinga dig att lyda för att likt den "beskyddarverksamhet" de är (jmf. maffian) de ej ska straffa dig.

Det innebär inte att de ej begår brott därmed, endast att deras egna kontrollerade rättssystem är utformade för att försvåra för dig att ställa dem till enskilt ansvar för dessa brott.

Professor i rättsvetenskap/JD, full universityprofessor in legal science Dennis Töllborg har påvisat att i Sverige har rättssystemet gjorts om bort från intellektuell hederlighet och förståelse till ett regelsystem bortkopplat från intellektuell heder, en automat som Dennis Töllborg beskriver i sin dräpande kritik. (Andra försöker nu programmera i detta operativsystem för andra utfall än de avsedda.)

"Som Dennis Töllborg påvisat så har svensk rättsvetenskap reducerats till regelkunskap och i avsaknad av vetenskaplig heder till ett rent legitimationsinstrument för maktutövning. Sverige är inte en rättsstat. Sverige är inte en rättsstat eftersom det istället är en lagstat; det lagstiftaren bestämmer, det är vad man 'ska' följa, makt är per svensk definition rätt. Se kapitel 2, Dennis Töllborg, Ruinerna hävdar att byggnaden var vacker / Our Era's Fear of Quality, utkom 12 juni 2015, <http://www.bod.se/bok/dennis-toellborg/ruinerna-haevdar-att-byggnaden-var-vacker/-our-eras-fear-of-quality/9789175697642.html>. Eftersom medvetandeviruset korruperat juristerna tror de att makt är rätt, och därför kan de säga saker som att man måste "Skilja mellan rätt och rättvisa". (s. 37, p. 42, boken). Det handlar istället om att skilja mellan lagtillämpning och rätt = den mest rättvisa rättvisa människor förmår skapa. Det är vad det verkligen handlar om. För vad man har gjort är att ha förlagt alla rättsfakta man ej önskar ta i under beteckningen "ej rättsligt relevant". Det är alltså nu ännu värre än att man ska följa det lagstiftaren bestämmer. Man ska dessutom följa det makten uppfattas vilja, vilket jäviga domare följer genom vad de väljer att betrakta som "rättsligt relevant", och vad de väljer att bortse från. Varje rättsfakta kan bortses från, helt godtyckligt!

Ur Töllborgs avhandling, min fetning och understrykning:

"Avhandlingens genomgående tema är att rätten i vissa sammanhang kan användas för att ge felaktiga verklighetsbilder, varvid man kan lyckas uppnå acceptans för ett visst förhållande. Acceptansen uppnås i så fall på felaktiga premisser." (Töllborg,

Blog Export: Intelligentsians blocking, <http://blog.lege.net/>

Personalkontroll, s. 26.)"

I thought @elonmusk's interview with @andrewsorkin was one of the great interviews ever. Musk is a free speech absolutist which I respect. I think he is entirely correct that he and @X are treated unfairly and inconsistently by advertisers.

@tiktok_us @instagram @facebook and others have enormous amounts of problematic content, antisemitic and otherwise, but the advertisers don't boycott those platforms.

Musk is targeted because the other media organizations view @X as a competitor and any time his name is in an article about controversies, it draws clicks. MSM is incentivized to attack him as it actually drives attention to their sites and therefore more revenues. It is these attack articles by other media organizations that put pressure on the @Disney's of the world to stop advertising on X.

If Bob Iger would carefully examine the facts, he would likely continue to advertise on X, but Disney caves to public pressure rather than do the right thing. Meanwhile Disney invests heavily on TikTok, likely alongside videos of kids teaching other teenagers to be anorexic and worse. I am sure Nelson Peltz can fix this when he joins the Disney board.

X presents the opportunity for advertisers to access an incredible global audience that is not available elsewhere. And it is cheap compared to other alternatives because of current circumstances.

On Musk and antisemitism:

After examining the facts, it was clear to me that Musk did not have antisemitic intent when he responded with the 'actual truth' tweet, and further clarified thereafter.

I thought he made what he meant extremely clear in the @andrewsorkin interview, namely, that Jews are drawn to support 'oppressed' groups and causes through various non-profits due to our history of being an oppressed minority.

Musk points out correctly that a number of these organizations and their members support Hamas. And he is correct in saying that Jews should rethink support for organizations that seek their elimination.

Many Jews are doing that right now.

To use a Muskism, Earth is fortunate that @X is owned by an individual that is largely insulated from financial and other influence. That said, perhaps some form of very carefully governed trust would be a better forever owner than any individual.

@PershingSqFdn invested in the Twitter privatization in support of free speech. Whether we make a profit on our investment is not important to us as we never intend to sell our interest.

I am more inclined to like and support companies that advertise on the platform because I appreciate their support for free speech. I have actually bought products I learned about from ads on @X. I can't think of another example of my responding to direct advertising other than on X.

Unfortunately, recent (and society's long-term experience) with non-profit governance, see @OpenAI, certain private universities etc. should not give anyone confidence that a traditional non-profit would be a better owner of X than Musk.

Perhaps some day the ownership of X should be distributed to each American, one share for each American during their lives and one for each person born, with a charter which permanently vests the free speech principles by which it operates.

Until then, we all should be grateful that X is owned by Musk. <https://twitter.com/alstocktrades/status/1730384044901482735>
