Officially blind

LegeNet @LegeNet Aug 29, 2023, 9:33 AM UTC

Another one is "official secrets". They mean that officialdom must pretend to be ignorant of and must never see what everybody else knows, that officialdom must remain idiots.

Too stupid to lose IQ on

RattleTrap 1776 🇺🇸, 8/25/23 1:36 PM UTC

RattleTrap 1776 🇺🇸, 8/25/23 1:36 PM UTC

First, anyone who thinks this is a real mugshot is too stupid to lose IQ on. 💯

This is very well and strategically planned. If you're still falling for "Trump got indicted" 👉🏻 you haven't read anything via Laws and Orders or applied anything over the past year I've shown which are all aftermath visuals of those and address the "show me where" questions over and over and over.

Do you know where one of CIC Trump's last speeches was in January 2021?

👉🏻 Alamo, Texas, by the border wall on January 12, 2021.

👉🏻 Optic = Alamo.

Up until his return to Twitter now 'X', his last tweet was January 8, 2021.

His "Mugshot" isn't a mugshot. He's in a suit and tie. No height chart.

And he addresses the media, walking to the camera as a President.

His "Mugshot" says ELECTION INTERFERENCE which is addressing the Executive Order 13848 which has been extended two years in a row by "Biden" that was written September 12, 2018, which was TWO months before ANY Election under CIC Trump, which means the only evidence of EI they would have had was 2016 and prior.

That EO has a National Emergency in it and it's current and active to September 12, 2023, and must be addressed or a new order until addressed.

That's also why CIC Trump keeps Truthing "ELECTION INTERFERENCE" every single day multiples times a day for the past few months amping up to the deadline.

The key line in that Order cancels out our votes and January 6, 2021, as I've broken down many times before.

"We have it all, we've caught them all."

His "Mugshot" says NO SURRENDER!

Also funny how Texas is going to be the first state to go back to Gold Backed Currency on September 1st.

Oh the irony, #NOTTTTTTTTT

William Barret Travis, Lieutenant Colonel and Commander of the Alamo, who drew a line in the sand telling his men to pick a side.

Also known for his famous letter "Victory or Death."

His famous last words at the Alamo were:

"No rendirse, muchachos!"

Don't surrender, boys! 🦾

All planned. Military Occupancy and COG 🇨🇱🇺🇸

RFK Jr: "There has never been a time in history when the good guys have been the ones who are censoring people."

Oddly, YouTube censored and took down this very interview with RFK Jr. and James O'Keefe.

What does that say about YouTube?

This interview is unavailable on YouTube, but you can still watch it here:

In Psychological Warfare you have Three Different Universes that the individual can live in.

🔘 You have the collective objective universe, that's the universe that's real, that is actual the universe, The Divine Matrix.

🔘 Then you have what is called a personal subjective universe, that is where a person's subconscious mind is programmed in a way that affects their conscious mind and they perceive reality not as it is but as they are, as they think it is.

🔘 Then the last one is what is called the collective subjective universe. Where you have a group of these people that all believe in the same personal subjective universe.

Systemhotande Paradigmskifte

<http://blog.lege.net/?/456-Had-to-be-broken.html#c2699>:

Fundera på en annan sak: Det talas ofta om "systemhotande". Ett upplösande av det nuvarande piratbaserade systemet (moderna kaparbrev i form av det som i detta system kallas "lagen") är förstås "systemhotande" för denna korporativa struktur. Att som Donald John Trump deklarerar och systematiskt legalisera att upplösa avtalet mellan Förenta Staterna, Vatikanen och Brittiska Kronan från år 1871 är givetvis "systemhotande" för det system som utifrån detta avtal (treaty) har skapats. Men denna form av "systemhotande" innebär inte ett hot för folket om vi bara förstår de nya möjligheterna det skapar. De som talar om "systemhotande", har de någonsin ens tänkt i dessa banor, eller är de så fastlåsta i förprogrammeringen som pågått åtminstone sedan år 1871 att de inte ens kan se möjligheterna eller de nya utmaningarna?

Hur påverkar upplösandet av världsavtalet mellan Förenta Staterna, Vatikanen och Brittiska Kronan Sveriges avtalsmässiga situation? Påven var på statsbesök för några år sedan, var det för att förbereda Sverige på förändringen? Är Sverige nu utanför avtal? Är Sverige nu ett rent brottsyndikat, anslutet till EU dito?

Had to be broken

It's all those people "only doing what's expected of them" who in the aggregate create tyranny. It had to be broken.

American politics would have marched on at a status quo indefinitely until the sovereignty of the nation was surrendered slowly, but surely, to the global agenda.

What you are observing now is the backlash to the Presidency of the one who slipped through cracks.

I'm tired of people playing in black and white, trying to call balls and strikes on a conservative/liberal agenda scale, when in reality, Trump is the only man who could have accelerated the enemy to the point of fracture.

Napoleon said "never interrupt your enemy when he is making a mistake."

Trump deserves the gratitude of all Americans for stepping up into this place in history.

What the Communist, the cabal, media, never Trumpers do {is don't intended?} get. What MAGA voters stand for, the values, the morals.....45 didn't create that, it was here long before 45. No what he did was bring us together, stand up for us and give us a voice again. He is us, we are him. TCSWC cause, they think it's just 45 they have no fuckin clue the beast that stalks them.

"Covid was only the revealing event, like the litmus in an acid test."

Excerpt in 2x1 landscape PDF form from Irène Lhoste, The European Union Technocracy, Bureaucrats and the Theft of Democracy—an EU civil servant's account, Monday, 3rd July 2023, 2023-07-03T16:17:11+01:00, <https://www.ukcolumn.org/article/the-european-union-technocracy-bureaucrats-and-the-theft-of-democracy-an-eu-civil-servants> , <https://t.me/realLegeNet/50632> .

The above excerpt inline:

"Covid was only the revealing event, like the litmus in an acid test."

"What happens 'in a crisis' instead

Admittedly, the 'normal' decision-making procedure has its limits and caveats. Its official appellation ("Ordinary Legislative Procedure"), however, is not to say that it is what happens by default.

Normal only applies in normal times—and times are rarely normal. Crises, on the other hand, benefit from very different rules. Take the Covid 'crisis'. None of the laws and rules adopted during this period, whether at national or EU level, followed the formalities explained above. In the name of 'efficiency', 'urgency', 'cutting red tape', 'saving lives', 'acting decisively', etc., all sorts of corners were cut—mostly the good ones, the ones that are supposed to ensure transparency and accountability and keep alight the feeble flame of democracy.

No impact assessment was carried out; no open call for tender was held when contracting the pandemic 'counter-measures', including the vaccines. Everything was suddenly exclusively top-down, and the EU public administration—like any other national administration in Europe, the UK, US, and everywhere else—just followed religiously the instructions received from the political level.

To the outside observer for whom things are clear and whose mind is made up that this was a hoax pandemic, it may seem inconceivable that so many people—the EU administration being calculated at around 32,000 people, including those from the executive agencies (i.e., not including entities such as the EMA, Frontex or Europol)—could blindly follow orders that today, at the remove of just a couple of years, seem so unequivocally absurd, deceitful and harmful towards people.

Part of the explanation for this evident failure lies in the fact that in reality, out of this huge administration, only a handful of people deal with any given subject. Not even the Commission's entire Directorate-General for Health (DG SANTE)—which is based far away from Brussels in County Meath—was involved in this; only a task force under one of the units of one of the Directorates worked directly on the job.

Moreover, as is often the way in sensitive situations, the Commission does not employ its own experienced civil servants with deep expertise in the matter, but ad-hoc contractual agents, drafted in to a grade outranking the civil servants, to carry out the task in hand. These are people hired on a short-term contract and not with the best salary. They would carry out any task without asking any question or putting two and two together, just to please their boss, to make sure the contract gets extended so that they can continue to have a job. Among the managerial class, it is a foregone conclusion that the individuals who achieve senior positions will be careerists who long since decided to sacrifice any moral backbone for the benefit of a promotion. So nobody will speak and everyone will avert their gaze rather than jeopardise their yearning to climb the greasy pole.

The creeping corruption in the system

Having inhabited the system for a while, I have formed my own theory about how such a gargantuan failure was possible. The culprit is half human corruption, half incompetence. This modus operandi did not wait for a massive blow like the Covid pandemic to strike in order to take shape inside the EU bureaucracy. Covid was only the revealing event, like the litmus in an acid test." (Irène Lhoste, The European Union Technocracy, Bureaucrats and the Theft of Democracy—an EU civil servant's account, Monday, 3rd July 2023, 2023-07-03T16:17:11+01:00, <https://www.ukcolumn.org/article/the-european-union-technocracy-bureaucrats-and-the-theft-of-democracy-an-eu-civil-servants>, <https://t.me/realLegeNet/50632>.)
